Your guide to choosing gardening equipment

What equipment is available to make everyday gardening jobs easier to manage?

Leads: 500

Grass trimmers, or edgers, have a fast-spinning nylon "string" that can cut grass in places that are inaccessible to a lawn mower, such as close to walls or around trees.

Hedge trimmers have blades that move backwards and forwards rapidly in a 'sawing' action. They make it much easier to keep your hedge neatly trimmed.

Garden shredders reduce garden waste – such as leaves, hedge cuttings and small branches – so you can avoid sending them to the waste tip.

What are the advantages of the different types of wave power?

Order of review

Petrol mowers have no lead and so you can use them anywhere. Petrol mowers are usually more powerful than electric mowers, and so are more suitable for large gardens.

Electric saws are light and easy to use. The power of the motor is measured in watts – the higher the number of watts, the more powerful the motor.

Choice of cutting method – there are two main methods by which farmers cut – rotary mow/cylinder, rotary blade mowers, used in two ways – wheelbar and header.

Who-ah! rotary out—These mowers come in a range of sizes, suitable for most gardens, and can cut close to the edge of the lawn. Most models trim the grass. Some have rollers that 'stripe' the lawn. Petrol or electric versions are available.

Hover rotary cut – all our hover mowers are electric. They are easy on use and will cut right to the edge of the lawn. Some models collect the grass.

Cylinder cut - the traditional way of cutting the lawn to get 'stripes'. All our cylinder mowers collect the grass.

Your guide to security lighting

I'm not sure which lighting system will suit my needs. What should I look for?

PIR (Passive Infra Red) tests automatically switch on the light when someone approaches. Many have adjustable sensitivity to stop those being activated by things like falling leaves. Most also let you adjust the time the light stays on for.

Microscan 240™, these new generation motion detectors have a shorter range than standard PIR units, but are more sensitive.

Override—if you do choose to have the light on continuously. That's either manual or automatic.

Photocell—a sensor that only stops the light coming on during daylight.

Switching—a switch that allows you to have the light on for a set time, up to the maximum wattage rated.

Information about microwave ovens

What are the benefits of using a microwave?

- Microwave ovens can be used for most types of cooking, defrosting, and for reheating preprepared food.
- Cooking by microwave is up to 75% faster than in a conventional oven and, as less energy is used, it is more economical.
- Food cooked by microwave stays moist and soft and the food is cooked so quickly that it becomes more nutritious and fewer vitamins and minerals are lost. So, food can be cooked without any fat and oil.

How do microtubules remove waste?

Microwaves cause dielectric molecules in food to vibrate very fast. The friction created produces heat. The heat spreads quickly through the food and that is why you need to stir food at intervals during cooking, and also stir it one time at the end.

All our microwave ovens conform to British and European Standards of Safety. They are also checked by our own Quality Control department. For further information, call the Independent Food Advisory Centre on 0400 241 240.

What should I remember when using my new machine?

- Most new microwaves display a label like the one shown here, relating to the new heating instructions on small ready-meal packs. By matching the information on the pack with that on your microwave, you will be able to cook and reheat heating time required accurately.

- Always lift food in and lift a panicle at two after 30-60 sec.
- If possible, stir or marinate food halfway through cooking, rotating, or defrosting, to make sure the food is heated evenly.
- Reheat food at a temperature higher than 70°C/160°F at 30-60 s (30-60 sec).
- Food straight from the refrigerator is colder than room temperature, and is thought to slightly longer cooking times than normal.
- Always follow manufacturer's instructions and use cooking instructions on food packs. However, instructions for microwave cookery are to be used only as a guide. You may find that slightly longer or less cooking time is needed.

Wattage (output power) - the higher the wattage, the more powerful the oven, and the faster it will be able to cook. All our microwaves have different power settings, including defrost.

Turntables—all our microwaves have a rotating turntable to ensure even cooking. Some models have "boomerang" turntables that return to their original starting position when cooking is finished. This is useful for removing pots that have handles. All turntables are removable, for easy cleaning.

Delay start - you can programme your microwave to start cooking while you are out, so that your meal is ready when you get home.

Programmable memory— lets you store the bias and power settings that you most frequently use in the memory (up to 10 when on full power or 10 when on drift). You can then access the setting at the touch of a button.

Auto weight cook - try in the weight, type of food and power level and the microwave will automatically cook for the right length of time.

Safe defrost - as food is defrosting the power level is gradually reduced so the food is thoroughly and evenly defrosted

CANNED FOOD BOX CLOSURE

What's the difference between the two tape formats you can get?

Look for Short tape is a small camera which gives up to 1-2 hours recording, or 2 hours with a long play facility. Tape can be played back by plugging the camcorder directly into your TV or VCR using the leads supplied. You can copy your recordings onto normal VHS tapes using a video VCR.

Hi-8 tape is in the same format above, however Hi-8 tapes records with higher picture resolution and automatic quality. Hi-8 can be used in advantage of the tape format. It needs to be used with a television with stereo video (S-VHS).

VHS-C is a compact version of a standard VHS tape, giving up to 2 hours recording, or 1-2 hours with a long play facility. VHS-C tapes can be played into your VCR using the adaptor that comes with all our VHS-C camcorders. They can also be played back by plugging the camcorder directly into your TV or VCR, using a 2 pin adaptor cable. If you don't have a TV or VCR with this type of input, you will need to use an RF lead and adaptor - available from Argus Mail Order Service (phone 0181 794 4555 or ask us more for details).

I want to record a range of subjects, from my own played footage, to family get togethers!

Look for

Power zoom lets you zoom in clear with a smooth action. The zoom means two times as much action - the higher the number the clearer you can focus.

Full range auto focus means that the subject stays in focus, as close range as 1 ft distant.

Programme auto exposure modes (Director modes) - you can select different auto exposure modes that are programmed for different situations: sports, night, portrait.

Macro - a facility that lets you focus on really close-up subjects.

Variable shutter speed - slow speeds are used for low light conditions and high speeds for moving fast action clearly.

Low illumination - the lower the number the less illumination the less light is needed for clear recording.

I want a camcorder that will give top quality results and is convenient to use.

Look for

Intelligent Auto Iris can control the amount of light allowed through the lens so you get clearer pictures with better colour balance.

Facelock lets you smoothly follow and not disturb the subject.

Flying erase head gives you a better quality picture when you record over old recordings.

Title facility lets you superimpose text messages onto your recordings.

Colour viewfinder allows you to view in perfect colour exactly what you are filming.
Infrared night vision allows better quality in the dark.

Hi-8 Stereo - records voices and sounds in stereo giving great clarity and realism in playback.

For convenience, look for Still/camera screen - you can look at recordings you have made through the camcorder. This is useful for editing or finding the right place on the tape to start recording from.

Long play record lets you record a lot of tape for a more economical time as you get 1 hour on a 1/2 VCR tape.

Infrared remote control lets you operate your camcorder from a distance conveniently.

Jargon BUSTER

CD-ROM drive

This stands for 'Compact Disc - Read Only Memory'. It means you can see advanced CD software with superior sound and video. Quick speed drives are faster than standard drives.

Expansion slots

You can add extra capabilities to your computer with add-on boards which fit into expansion slots. On IBM and Olivetti PCs there are either ISA (Industry Standard Architecture) or the new and faster PCI (Peripheral Component Interconnect) slots. Add-on cards add video or graphics.

Graphics

Software with a lot of graphics needs extra memory to run quickly. This can come from DRAM (Dynamic Random Access Memory), where the computer reserves the information every thousandth of a second to provide increased short-term memory. Another way is to use internal cache memory, which uses a temporary holding area in the computer's memory. This is measured in Kb (kilobytes). Video RAM lets you manipulate images more quickly, and a Windows accelerator card will increase screen speed for Windows applications.

Hard disk drive

This is where you store software and data. You'll need a lot of space if you want to store graphics. Hard disk space is measured in Megabytes (Mb) or even Gigabytes (which are 100 Mb). All our computers have a diskette drive for storing information on removable diskettes, also known as floppy disks. These are used for installing new software, loading up your data, or transferring files between computers.

Keyboard and mouse

All our computers have a standard 103-key keyboard and a mouse - a pointing device which you move with your hand to control the pointer (or 'cursor') on the screen. Laptops have a trackball (Apple) or track point (IBM) instead of a mouse.

Memory

Memory refers to the temporary storage space your computer uses while you're working. It is measured in Mbytes (megabytes). A memory of 1 Mbyte means the computer can hold 1 million bytes of data at a time. RAM means Random Access Memory, and the more you have, the more things you can work on at one time. All our computers have enough RAM for the software provided. Additional RAM can be added on.

Microprocessor

This is the brain of your computer. Higher speed (measured in Megahertz) chips mean, but it's good for computer games and graphics. There are two main kinds of processor: IBM and Olivetti PCs use Intel DX or Pentium processors for all equivalent boards. Apple computers use either Motorola 68000 or the Power PC 601 RISC series processor.

Modems

Computers with modems let you send or receive files, and subscribe to the Internet - the worldwide information network everyone is talking about. You can also use your computer as an answering machine.

Monitor

This is the screen. It is measured diagonally, but the viewable area is slightly smaller. We've chosen computers with high-resolution colour monitors to make the most of your graphics and be easy on the eye. A TV tuner means you can watch TV from your computer screen.

Operating system

This is the software that makes your computer work. IBM and Olivetti use DOS and Windows 95. Apple Performance uses the Mac OS system with its famous icon-based desktop.

Preloaded software

'Software' means the programs your computer can run, such as word processors for writing documents, or games. All our computers come with software already installed, and a variety of popular CD-ROM titles.

Sound

All our computers have built-in speakers to get the most out of games and multimedia software. Active speakers have a higher quality of sound and those with more watts will be louder. All our computers also have a sound card. Soundblaster is the leading brand.

Laptop personal computers

If you want portable computing power, then a laptop is the perfect solution. Although just about the size of a sheet of A4 paper, and a few centimetres deep, these laptops are complete PCs, capable of running the same software you would use on a larger machine. Laptops operate from the mains or from batteries. Instead of a mouse, you use an integral Trackball (Apple Powerbook) or Track Point (IBM Thinkpad) pointing device. And if you need to send and receive data or faxes, you can connect an internal or external modem to these laptops.

Your guide to choosing a printer

'The printers differ much, in terms of print quality'

Look for

Dot-matrix works by pin striking a ribbon inside the paper. 24 pin printers give smoother definition for letters and graphics than 9-pin printers ink-jettable jet printers give clean, crisp print quality in monochrome or colour. They are also quiet in operation

Laser printers are quiet and give the best quality mono prints

LQ stands for Letter Quality printing

NHQ stands for Near Letter Quality

DPI stands for Dots Per Inch. The higher the DPI, the better the definition and print quality

'I need a printer that is fast and versatile. What should I look for?'

Look for

Print speed is measured in characters per second (CPS) or pages per minute (PPM). Some printers have a faster speeds depending on the choice of print quality. High is fast, low density printing, used for labels

Buffer memory from the printer store information from the PC, so you can copy it in printing while your document is printing on the 'page number'

Fonts are different styles of typeface you can choose from, to change the appearance of your work

How do electronic typewriters differ from manual ones?

Look for:

Correction memory lets you correct up to two lines of text you've just typed, so you can go back and change mistakes.

Text memory - a file memory means you can store about 3 pages of text, a 12k memory means you can store 880014 pages.

Liquid Crystal Display (LCD) lets you review and edit text on screen before printing.

Justification - this facility makes all lines of text the same length by inserting extra space between words (like in a book).

Spellcheck means the typewriter has an electronic 'dictionary' to check your spelling against.

Decimal tabulation - this facility automatically lines up the decimal points in a list of numbers.

Print speed is measured in characters per second (CPS).

Typing pitch is the number of characters that can be typed per inch on a line.

'What are the advantages of a word processor?'

Word processors have all the benefits of an electronic typewriter (see justification) and Spellcheck plus larger displays and a larger memory capacity. They all use 36 inch floppy disks.

In addition, look for:

Block/Copy/Move and Delete - these features let you edit text quickly and easily.

'Search and replace' lets you amend every occurrence of a specific word or phrase throughout the document. It's a scale operation.

Address/Mail merge - a list of names and addresses can be merged with a letter so you can print the same letter personalised for different people.

MS DOS file format compatibility means you can save documents in MS DOS format so they can be transferred to a PC (personal computer), operating in DOS format, gives software compatibility.

'Do all word processors use the same method of printing?'

Our word processors take one of three different types of printer:

Delay wheel - gives better quality print at a speed of 13-18 characters per second. These different type styles you just fit a new delay wheel.

Thermal transfer - gives ink and letter quality printing on thermal paper. Thermal transfer is faster and quieter than delay wheel printing and you can use different styles and sizes of type, without changing any parts.

Bubble jet/ink jet - gives near laser quality print. This method is fast, quiet and can print in different styles, sizes, and shades.

'What new features are available on modern phones?'

Look for

Select Services - there are many services available now, including Call Diversion (people can speak to you on the phone even when you're away from home), Call Forward (you can give through to you when you're already on the phone), and Call Return (it lets you know the number of the last person to call you). These are available from BT for a small monthly rental charge. If you have a more sophisticated signalling phone, Call ET (free on 190 for more information).

Memories - for storing your frequently used or important numbers so you can recall them at the touch of a button (on BT).

Last number re-dial - can automatically dial the last number you dialed. Useful when a number is engaged.

Mute/answer button - lets you speak to other people in the room without being overheard by the caller, putting your hand over the receiver doesn't work.

Hands-free dialling - lets you dial without lifting the receiver. A speaker means you can hear what the phone is answered, then you simply pick up the receiver to speak.

Hands-free speech - lets you talk and listen without lifting the receiver.

'A cordless phone would be great.
Do they work differently to normal phones?'

Cordless phones allow you to receive or make calls around the house and even in the garden. You can page the handset (or even) from the base unit. Some also have an intercom between the base and handset.

The handset must be connected to a suitable supply and an approved telephone socket. You put the handset in the base unit to recharge. A battery backup means the phone can still be used during a power cut.

The quality of received calls won't be quite as clear as on a conventional phone, because of interference, especially if you are a long way from the base unit or if there are lots of calls between.

Multi-channel facility - cordless phones can operate over different frequency channels. A suitable channel facility means you can switch between channels (up to 4, on some models) to get the best reception.

Compressor/digital voice reduction is now available on many newer cordless phones. This allows calls to be clearer to give a more realistic reproduction.

'What special features should I consider when buying a telephone?'

Look for

Long Equivalent Number (LBN) - all telephones have a LBN. The number you dial to get to a single line or 4. For example, the LBN for 0146 800 524 is 0146 800 524.

PBX compatible telephones can be used with most PBX exchanges or other systems. Use the more features (helps for more information).

ringer volume control - lets you adjust the volume of the ringer.

Sealocks

All Argo phones need a plug-in type socket. If you don't have this type of socket, contact BT and ask about conversion.

Mercury

You can now use the Mercury network from your home via a BT line. For a small amount for you will receive a PIN code that lets you make cheaper calls on some charge bands. Some phones have a Mercury button that you press to dial in the Mercury system. On other Mercury compatible phones you can programme one of the buttons to perform this function.

Please call the Mercury Helpline free on 0300 240 136 for more information.

Remember there are two types of car stereo. The basic, 20W to 40W DC, runs only by the 12V DC (2.5A) standard car car. The 40W car may require an adaptor to plug in your car stereo.

Your guide to choosing a car stereo

What features do car stereos have?

Power - an amplifier system you can add to the stereo balance between the front and back speakers for car stereo speakers see page 100

Auto-tune tuning - the radio automatically scans the auto-tune stations.

Radio Data Systems (RDS) - displays the name of the station and keeps it stored in memory so you can return to the memory.

Enhanced Olive Network (EON) - you can choose to have whatever you are listening to transmit by car radio or by car stereo.

Programme Type (PTY) - you can choose the type of programme you want to listen to (e.g. rock, pop, jazz) and it will automatically find stations broadcasting that type, while listening to know the frequency.

We're worried about security. Do any models have an anti-theft device?

Removable units - some models are designed so you can take the stereo out of your car and use it elsewhere.

Detachable front panel/Removable security panel - you can remove the front panel of the car stereo and use it as a portable radio. The stereo won't work without the panel.

Your guide to choosing a television

'We want a TV with a big, sharp picture, and great quality stereo sound. Which models should we consider?'

Look for:

Size - TV sets are traditionally measured, in inches, by the length of the glass tube across its diagonal. The size of TV sets is usually given in cm. You'll have no conversion headaches over the inches, thanks to the ease of conversion. The figures shown, eg 934cm, refer to the diagonal of the actual viewing area.

FST stands for Fluorescent Tube, it gives you improved definition, a wider viewing angle, and less light reflection off the screen.

NICAM is a high quality digital audio signal which is transmitted simultaneously with TV pictures, giving a sound quality similar to compact discs. You need to choose a TV with a NICAM receiver, which picks up the signal through your normal TV aerial. To enjoy NICAM stereo recordings, you need a NICAM VCR as well as a NICAM television.

'We don't mind paying a bit more for a TV that has lots of useful features. What should we look out for?'

Look for:

Teletext/Factnet gives you up-to-date information on a wide range of subjects, like travel, news, sport and TV programme listings. Teletext also offers subtitles for hearing-impaired viewers. Factnet is an updated version that lets you watch between 'pages' faster. You need to use an external aerial to get good reception.

SCART socket - used in conjunction with SCART leads, this connects a TV, VCR, hi-fi system, satellite receiver, or games console, quickly and easily, and often with better reception.

On-screen display - details such as what channel you have tuned on, or adjustments to volume or contrast, are displayed on the TV screen. Model 709 32V watches.

Sleep and Wake-up timer - useful if you watch TV in bed. You can programme the TV to switch off at a certain time, so it doesn't bother you all night with it on. You can also programme the TV to come on in the morning, to act as an alarm clock.

Your guide to choosing a video recorder

'What do I need to think about when buying a video recorder?'

Look for

Programming—generally all VCRs are stored nonchannel while you watch a show. You can program them with a remote control handset and with many VCRs you'll be able to see the details you have entered either in a LCD panel on the handset itself, or on the TV screen.

Event timer—most VCRs enable programmed advances to record several programs over a period of weeks.

Time speed (or fast) play means the VCR can record, and then play back, at half the usual recording speed. This causes the recording time of a 4-hour tape to be doubled (up to 8 hours recording to a 4-hour tape). The slow-motion image is the same as normal, although the quality of the recording may not be as good as when you record at normal speed.

MCAM is a high quality stereo sound signal. VCRs with a MCAM microphone pick up the signal through your existing TV aerial. MCAM video recordings need to be played back through a MCAM or stereo TV to obtain the stereo sound.

PDC (Programme Delivery Control)—automatically adjusts your timer setting if the TV programme is delayed (as happens with selected TV channels).

Auto set-up—removes the VCR from recording, if you automatically locate and store all available channels. The VCR does it automatically.

Yamaha keyboards

Please note that if model L and L10 require a power adaptor (not included) for use in a particular country.

When new, keyboards are not supplied unless otherwise stated and all components are approximately:

Which keyboards are suitable for the more serious player?

Full size keys — full size keys are great as an introduction to keyboards, or for children, but the more serious player should choose a full size keyboard.

Polysynth — this is the number of notes that can be played together at the same time.

Touch sensitivity — some of the keyboards are responsive to how hard or softly you press the keys. The harder you strike the keys, the louder the sound, like a piano.

I want to experiment with different sounds and effects. What should I look for?

Voices — all our keyboards have a large variety of voices to choose from. These give different sounds when you play — like the sound of a flute or a violin. For example, the quality and volume of these effects depend on the range of the voices.

Rhythms — all our keyboards have a large variety of beats or rhythms that give the effect of a backing band to accompany your playing. The sound quality of these rhythms improves as you move up through the range.

Drum and sound effect pads — these are small pads that give drum and sound effects when you tap them. On keyboards that don't have pads, pads can usually play these sounds on the keys by changing one of the voices.

Chord and song memory — for you to store and remember past, so all of a piece of music that you have played.

Digital — this is the digital technology that makes your keyboard work like digital keyboards and computers.

Your guide to child safety

"How do we make sure our children only play with toys that are safe and suitable?"

What a wide range of toys that will help your toddler develop. Follow these key points to make sure playtime is fun for you as well as safe.

- Make sure your child only plays with toys that are right for their age and ability. All our toys have an age recommendation which you should check before buying.
- Always read the instructions carefully before putting packaging and keep it in case you need to look at it again.
- Keep older children's toys away from reach of young children and babies.

"What should we do to make our home safe when our baby arrives?"

We have drawn up some key points with RoSPA, the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents.

- Fit a safety gate at the top and bottom of stairs, and keep stairs and landings clear of toys. • Use a baby monitor to hear your child when you are in another room, but remember that this is not a replacement for supervision. • Use a fireguard securely fixed to the wall, around every gas, electric, or open fire. • Make sure the child's toy is not in front of security when your child is in it. • Ensure that the product you buy is appropriate for the age, size and development of your child. • Make sure a high chair matches your child's weight and safety features.

Our monitors do not contain added asbestos and comply with tests specified in national legislation and EN60335 standards. As we know, your child will be able to climb out of the cot or crib and will not use it as a toy.

- Place the cot on its back. • Keep babies warm. • Avoid overheating. • Ensure good circulation in the room. • Follow good hygiene to prevent all clothing and bedding from soiling. • Be alert to all signs that the baby may be soiled.

"I need a child restraint so I can drive my baby daughter about in safety."

We will advise you of all relevant information to most cars. Some may require a fitting kit - please check with the manufacturer.

- Check the child restraint is correct for the age and weight of your child, and that it conforms to the British or European standard (all our child restraints do).
- Always read the manufacturer's leaflet - your child's safety depends on correct installation. If you are in any doubt, check with your local Road Safety Officer.
- Check the child restraint harness each time you set off.

After Sales Care Service

All Argos products are guaranteed against manufacturing defects for a minimum of 12 months. In those instances where the manufacturer's warranty extends beyond 12 months we will of course honour the terms of the manufacturer's guarantee. Argos supports the guidelines for guarantees set by the British Retail Consortium, and we are committed to ensuring that our After Sales Care policies are offered in addition to your statutory rights (which remain unaffected).

Quality and Safety

Our Quality Assurance Department ensures that all Argos products which are governed by strict Safety Regulations are tested to establish compliance with such regulations. In most cases the tests will be carried out by independent laboratories.

Particular attention is given to both Nursery and Toy products, and all Argos toys are tested for compliance with exactly the same safety standards as those governing the Lion Mark, which is a recognised symbol of toy safety.

All Argos toys are tested for compliance with EU Safety Regulations which is signified by the "CE" mark on all our toy products. From 1996 several other product ranges will also begin to display the "CE" symbol as a mark of compliance with the new European safety laws.

All the glass employed in the manufacture of our Furniture products is constructed to minimise the risk of serious accidents.

All our upholstered furniture is manufactured to comply with Safety Regulations, which include both match and cigarette ignition tests.

All our electrical products, where appropriate, are now supplied with a pre-fitted plug. Look out for the fitted plug symbol on the relevant pages. The nominal voltage supply in the UK changed to 230V last year and many electrical appliances are now being marked 230V as opposed to 240V. There will be no noticeable differences in the performance of the product.

All our electrical products are tested to comply with European Safety Standards. The BSA mark indicates that a product has been tested for electrical safety by an independent laboratory and manufactured in a factory which is inspected by the British Electrotechnical Approvals Board.

THE ARGOS PROMISE

Making sure that you are happy with your purchases both when you buy them, and after you have taken them home, is very important to us.

We want all our customers to be totally satisfied with every purchase made from Argos. We therefore offer you the opportunity of returning any item within 14 days from the date of purchase for exchange or a full refund. All we ask is that you return the product in its original and unopened condition, along with the wrapping and the receipt, to any Argos store. Please note, however, that certain products are excluded from this promise. All such exclusions are clearly indicated by a statement on the relevant catalogue page. This guarantee is in addition to your statutory rights, which remain unaffected.

After Sales Care

If a product develops a fault within 30 days of purchase, simply return it (with your proof of purchase) and we will offer you an exchange or a full refund.

Repair Services

If a product develops a manufacturing fault after 30 days of purchase and within a year from the date of purchase, we will have the item repaired Free of Charge.

In those instances where the manufacturer's warranty extends beyond 12 months, we will of course honour the terms of the manufacturer's guarantee.

Most repairs are normally carried out within 16 days. Look out for the symbols in the catalogue indicating the service available.

For your convenience, many electrical appliances can be serviced in your home.

Most office electrical equipment can be serviced on site.

For in-home or on-site repairs, please contact your local store for details.

Other items should be returned to the store for repair, along with your proof of purchase, plus all the accessories originally supplied with the product.

METRIC CONVERSION GUIDE

All of the goods in the catalogue are now marked in metric units. Don't forget! The guide below will help you to convert back to imperial units should you wish to do so. Please note, that all sizes contained within this catalogue are approximate.
